

APPENDIX

Following are 33 screen shots from an illustrative example of computer software to operate the system of the present invention. These screen shots step the reader through the steps of the system and the operation of the invention, as well as illustrate representative components, both hardware and software, for the system.

The OmniView Solution

OmniView PORTAL - the online reporting solution for security managers, property managers and owners that provides one portal for security officers and site staff to communicate actionable items and exceptions.

- OmniReports - Electronic checklist format provides an easy-to-use interface for officers and managers to enter hourly, daily and incident reports.
- Option: OmniMail - Managers can email critical questions that are urgent but don't necessarily require phone correspondence. A useful tool for personal assistants to filter communication and to organize your agenda efficiently.
- Option: OmniCam - Online control room for monitoring, both on and off site, for officers, managers and property owners
- Option: OmniTime - Personnel management tool, schedules all building personnel, from officers to receptionists. Security can range from card access to thumbprint and eye scanning.

The combination of features disclosed herein serves as the basis for a comprehensive security and property management system that is proactive rather than reactive in that it presents tasks and incidences to be rectified rather than just reports on completed tasks and incidences. Although the system has been exemplified using security and maintenance as primary features, other features can be added as deemed necessary or desired by the ultimate user.

The system of the present invention, in its best mode, is computerized. As such, it is subject to various permutations based on the programmer. The various steps and features that comprise the present invention can be placed and conducted in any suitable order without departing from the scope of the invention. Further, various individual computer programmers of ordinary skill in the field can write different computer code to carry out the various steps and features without undue experimentation. The resulting computer codes for carrying out the various steps and features fall within the scope of the present invention.

The foregoing detailed description of the preferred embodiments and the appended figure and appendices have been presented only for illustrative and descriptive purposes. They are not intended to be exhaustive and are not intended to limit the scope and spirit of the invention. The embodiments were selected and described to best explain the principles of the invention and its practical applications. One skilled in the art will recognize that many variations can be made to the invention disclosed in this specification without departing from the scope and spirit of the invention.
